CDABC AWARDS

How to Nominate

Only CDABC members may nominate an individual, with the exception of the Certified Dental Assistant Recognition Award (the public, colleagues, etc. can nominate a CDA for this award).

Visit www.cdabc.org > About Us > Awards for general award criteria, specific award criteria, and nomination forms.

Presentation of Award

Recipients will be presented their awards at the Pacific Dental Conference during the President's reception held in March each year. Recipients will be acknowledged at the CDABC Annual General Meeting in the Fall.

Awards

CERTIFIED DENTAL ASSISTANT RECOGNITION AWARD

Recognition of a CDABC member who

- a) on a day to day basis, demonstrates pride in our profession;
- b) exhibits exemplary certified dental assisting skills; leadership among co-workers; high ethical and professional standards;
- c) embodies the spirit of the certified dental assistant professional.

An award each year shall not be considered a requirement, but it is the hope of the CDABC to give out as many of these awards as possible each year to deserving certified dental assistants.

CERTIFICATE OF MERIT

Recognition of any individual who has provided special service to certified dental assisting within the province of British Columbia. Nominees will have been involved with:

- a) the promotion of education and skills of certified dental assisting to the public at either a local or provincial level;
- b) continuing education or promotion of the profession to the dental community;
- c) activities that develop an increased level of professional awareness and a sense of pride in the profession of certified dental assisting; or
- d) exceptional service on behalf of the certified dental assisting profession.

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE AWARD

Recognition of an active member who has given exceptional service and commitment to the CDABC in a given year or for outstanding service over a number of years. The recipient

- a) has been active by service on the CDABC Board for one or more terms, and/or has participated on one or more CDABC committees;
- b) will have shown exceptional dedication and commitment to the promotion of the profession;
- c) will be of outstanding professional character and embody the spirit of certified dental assisting; and
- d) whose involvement and commitment extends beyond the inherent responsibilities of their position(s) within the CDABC.

OUTSTANDING DEDICATION TO A LOCAL CDA SOCIETY

- a) This award is presented in support of local societies, to an active member or members who have contributed tirelessly to the performance and future of their local society.
- b) The recipient(s) is/are an active member of the CDABC.
- c) Only one award may be presented to an individual society in a given year. This may be either an individual society member or a group of individuals within the society that have made significant contributions to the society.
