Ms. Cheri Wu RDH

Hands-On Level I :
Achieving Clinical
Confidence with Ultrasonics

Join us for a highly progressive hands-on workshop that will take you to the next level in client care and help you meet the demands of today's non-surgical periodontal therapy. With the aid of a 'live camera', Cheri will guide participants as they practice in a simulated ultrasonic work environment on manikins. The course will help you maximize your current ultrasonic knowledge and skills and achieve an advanced level of clinical confidence using ultrasonic instrumentation. Attention will be given to insert evaluation, selection and adaptation, healthy ergonomics and client comfort, including the needle-free anesthetic alternative for pain management – Oraqix. Cheri will present scientific and practical information that will bring immediate benefits to your practice. Participants will leave with the skills to work "smarter and not harder". Course is limited to 20 participants

Hands-On Level II : Achieving
Clinical Competence with Ultrasonics
Prerequisite: previous hands-on ultrasonic course – level I

Do you want more from your ultrasonic instrumentation experience? Are you feeling confident with your ultrasonic knowledge, insert selection, sequencing and adaptation but want to move to that next level of competence? In a simulated work environment on manikins, Cheri will guide you through the most anatomically challenging situations. With a variety of evacuation devices, learn to optimize high volume evacuation to aid in the reduction of aerosols and enhance operator visibility. Attention will be given to adaptation of root anatomy, operator ergonomics

Dr. Jeff Coil Endodontist
Dr. Chris Wyatt Prosthodontist

"Restoration of Structurally Compromised Teeth: an endodontic & prosthodontic perspective"

Assessment of fractured, carious, and infected teeth is critical prior to performing restorative procedures. Endodontic diagnosis, treatment, and re-treatment will be addressed. The selection of post systems from traditional to the new fibre posts will be discussed in detail.

Dr. Ingrid Emanuels Dr. Karen Gardner

Navigating the Information Super Highway

This is a light-hearted look at the emerging digitization of our society and how it relates to practice in the dental field. The presentation will include the usefulness of online tools such as Google Search and Facebook and then relate these digital tools to how they can help you in your practices and professional development.

Working as educators at the UBC Faculty of Dentistry, Dr. Karen Gardner and Dr. Ingrid Emanuels have been completely immersed into the digitization of dental education and practice. They will take you through the development of this phenomenon in society and relate it to the present day situation in dental offices.

College of Dental Surgeons BC
Recordkeeping Essentials – What You Need to Know

Accurate patient records are essential in today's dental practice. In this dynamic session, practitioners will be brought up to date on current requirements, and will learn how to apply best practices in recordkeeping to a busy dental office. This course is based on CDSBC's revised Dental Recordkeeping Guidelines, and will use case studies and sample chart reviews to illustrate such topics as informed consent, confidentiality, electronic recordkeeping, and release and transfer of dental records

KRISTIN NICKELLS CEC

WHO DID YOU SAY YOU WORKED FOR?

Art, Science and Business – a dental practice balances on all three. Neglect one and the practice fails. Yet the business framework on which a dental practice rests is invisible, ignored and often misunderstood. Kristin will take the whole team on guided tour 'under the hood' to see a side of the dental practice that is hidden – because everyone will benefit from understanding the unseen machinery that makes a practice 'go'. How does a dental practice compare to other business models? What are your unique challenges? View the practice in a way you've never seen it. Understand why this perspective makes a difference to your work
